This is the season when we hear lively tunes replete with ringing bells, the thumping of drums, the divine conch, and an oboe-like nadaswaram reverberating through the air.

The entire environment throughout September gets ready to welcome Ganesha to celebrate Ganesh Chaturthi, a festival that marks the birth (re-birth) of Lord Ganesh. The pandemic has slowly blunted all hopes, but as they say, each festival brings with it an opportunity to tackle old miseries and build new hopes.

Riding on this festive spirit, the Indi-pop singer, Daler Mehndi has geared up for a spiritual release of the song, “Chintamani Ganesha.” The song is written and composed by the Pop Singer himself in the signature Daler Mehndi, style full of musical effervescence, energy, festive, and happiness with an assurance that the Chintamani will remove all sedimentation, blockages and obstacles.

The singer recently released a short teaser of the song, “Chintamani Ganesha.” The song begins with a thumping tune with images of him and other devotees worshipping lord Ganesha with enthusiasm. The song is released worldwide, across all platforms today.
